BRAEBON Announces New Second Generation Pursuit Sleep² Software with MediPalm® 22-Channel Amplifier.

Leading sleep laboratories recognize BRAEBON as innovative supplier of state-of-the-art sleep products

New York, March 3, 2006: BRAEBON Medical Corporation, a world leading designer, manufacturer, and distributor of sleep products, has released a second generation sleep diagnostic system addressing the needs of today's business environment of sleep. The Pursuit Sleep² System is a feature-rich and reasonably priced product-offering attractive in many ways. Using the proven MediPalm® 22-channel amplifier, BRAEBON was able to develop a complete diagnostic package of components that allows the end-user to build their own system. The basic kit comes with a complete array of sensors, 22-channel amplifier, digital video and a comprehensive software package that includes collection, analysis, reporting, and interfacing to Braebon's Pursuit Outcomes® Core Management Software.
